INTRODUCTION

The City of Picayune recognizes that its programs, services and activities are fundamental to the public and to the quality of life of its citizens. To ensure that all of its citizens and the general public have the opportunity to participate in the programs, services and activities offered by the City of Picayune, the City is addressing the changes necessary to implement program accessibility for its buildings, facilities, polling places, parks and public rights-of-way. The City of Picayune is dedicated to providing buildings and facilities that provide useable and functional disable access. The City understands that while some existing facilities possibly met the accessibility requirements at the time of construction, these facilities may not meet the current standards.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) provides civil rights protection to individuals with disabilities and guarantees equal opportunity for individuals with disabilities in employment, transportation, state and local government services, telecommunications, and in the goods and services provided by private businesses. With the adoption and implementation of this Transition Plan, the City of Picayune will continue a history of concern with the civil rights of people with disabilities. Continuing to respond to the rights and needs of people with disabilities recognized by the ADA, the City of Picayune is taking the necessary steps to demonstrate its commitment to creating an inclusive civic experience for all persons.

PURPOSE OF THE TRANSITION PLAN

If a city with 50 or more employees decides to make physical changes to achieve program accessibility, it must develop a written plan that identifies the modifications that will be made. The plan should include timelines for completing these modifications. Interested parties, including people with disabilities and organizations representing people with disabilities, must at a minimum have an opportunity to participate in the development of the plan by submitting written comments. A copy of the plan and a copy of the self-evaluation must be available for public inspection for three years after completion.

This Transition Plan was produced from a comprehensive survey of the buildings, facilities and properties owned by or utilized by the City for specific purposes major pedestrian routes to public facilities, transportation nodes, and commercial districts within the public rights-of-way to identify existing physical barriers for individuals with disabilities. Though the ADA does not prescribe any standards for the evaluation of existing facilities, on-site assessments were made using the following new construction and alteration standards: the ADA Standards as they are appended in Title 28 of the Code of Federal Regulations, part 36 (referred to as the Americans with Disabilities Act Accessibility Guidelines or "ADAAG"), and the International Building Code (IBC). This document identifies and locates architectural barriers as detailed in both the federal and building guidelines outlined in the ADAAG and IBC.

To summarize, the City of Picayune's Transition Plan assesses physical barriers on the external site, facilities and major pedestrian routes within the public rights-of-way, estimates the costs for their mitigation, sets priorities for their elimination, and provides a schedule for their removal.

OVERVIEW OF THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The ADA, prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in employment, state and local governments, public accommodations, commercial facilities, transportation, and telecommunications. It also applies to the United States Congress. ADA has 5 titles or sections that are briefly described as follows.

To be protected by the ADA, one must have a disability or have a relationship or association with an individual with a disability. An individual with a disability is defined by the ADA as a person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, a person who has a history or record of such impairment, or a person who is perceived by others as having such impairment. The ADA does not specifically name all of the impairments that are covered.

ADA Title I: Employment

Title I requires employers with 15 or more employees to provide qualified individuals with disabilities an equal opportunity to benefit from the full range of employment-related opportunities available to others.

ADA Title II: State and Local Government Activities

Title II covers all activities of state and local governments regardless of the government entity's size or receipt of federal funding. Title II requires that state and local governments provide people with disabilities and equal opportunity to benefit from all of their programs, services and activities, for example: public education, employment, transportation, recreation, health care, social services, courts, voting and City meetings. ADA Title II is the focus for this transition plan.

State and local governments are required to follow specific architectural standards in the new construction and alteration of their buildings. They also must relocate programs or otherwise provide access in inaccessible older buildings, and communicate effectively with people who have hearing, vision or speech disabilities. Public entities are not required to take actions that would result in undue financial and administrative burdens. They are required to make reasonable modifications to policies, practices and procedures where necessary to avoid discrimination, unless they can demonstrate that doing so would fundamentally alter the nature of the service, program or activity being provided.

ADA Title III: Public Accommodations

Title III covers businesses and non-profit service providers that are public accommodations, privately operated entities offering certain types of courses and examinations, privately operated transportation, and commercial facilities. Public accommodations are private entities who own, lease, lease to, or operate facilities such as restaurants, retail stores, hotels, movie theaters, private schools, convention centers, and recreational facilities, including sports stadiums and fitness clubs. ADA Title III does not apply to this Transition Plan.

ADA Title IV Telecommunications Relay Services

Title IV addresses telephone and television access for people with hearing and speech disabilities. It requires common carriers (telephone companies) to establish interstate and intrastate telecommunications relay services (TRS) 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. ADA Title IV does not apply to this Transition Plan.

ADA Title V: Miscellaneous Provisions

Title V clarifies that both states and Congress are covered by all provisions of the ADA. It also provides for recovery of legal fees for successful proceedings pursuant to the Act and establishes a mechanism for technical assistance along with specific instructions to many federal agencies required to implement the Act. Additionally, Title V includes a provision prohibiting either (a) coercing or threatening or (b) retaliating against the disabled or those attempting to aid people with disabilities in asserting their rights under the ADA. ADA Title V does not apply to this Transition Plan.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE ADA TRANSITION PLAN

The ADA Transition Plan documents the access barriers for the exterior site and interior areas of City buildings, parks, as well as major pedestrian routes to public facilities, transportation nodes and commercial districts within the public rights-of-way. The documented access barriers indicate that existing conditions of these facilities deviate from the current State and Federal accessibility standards for new construction. For each identified barrier, the ADA Transition Plan provides corrections to comply with the ADA Accessibility Guidelines (ADAAG) and International Building Code (IBC). To comply with the standards for accessibility to City programs, services and activities, the City's ADA Transition Plan provides the following information:

- Identifies physical barriers in the City's facilities-buildings, parks and public rights-of way, which includes mid-block sections of sidewalks, intersections and pedestrian signals that limit the accessibility of it programs, services or activities to individuals with disabilities;
- Assesses the extent of physical barriers to the accessibility of programs, services, and activities within these facilities and rights-of-way within the City's jurisdiction;

- * Describes the proposed methods to mitigate these identified barriers;
- * Estimates preliminary costs for their correction;
- * Sets priorities for barrier elimination, specifies the schedule for taking the steps necessary to achieve compliance with the ADA by providing a mitigation schedule; and
- * Indicates the official responsible for implementation of the plan.

CITY OF PICAYUNE'S ADA PROGRAM

Responsible Official

The ADA Coordinator has been designated by the Mayor and City Council as the person responsible for the development and implementation of the City's ADA Transition Plan. The ADA Coordinator for the City of Picayune is Mr. Tom Milar, who is also the Code Enforcement Officer. Mr. Milar reviews all site and building plans for accessibility issues to insure compliance with ADA regulations on all new construction and renovation projects and co/led the City's Self-Evaluation Survey, conducted during the summer months of 2015.

The City Public Works Director, Eric Morris also plays a crucial role as director of the City's Public Works and Streets Department. Mr. Morris works closely with the ADA Coordinator to ensure compliance with ADA regulations by coordinating sidewalk, curb cut and curb ramp construction with new roadway construction as well as street overlay, repair and maintenance projects for the City.

Grievance Procedure

The City of Picayune developed a disabled access complaint procedure for individuals who have an ADA issue with regard to program or facility access. The process was developed and was reviewed and adopted by the Mayor and City Council. A copy of the grievance policy is included in this document and is posted on the City's official website.

Self-Evaluation Survey

As required by the ADA legislation, the City of Picayune has conducted a Self-Evaluation Survey of its programs, services and activities to ensure that they are accessible to and usable by persons with disabilities. The ADA Coordinator, along with one of the City's building inspectors and volunteers from the Commission on Disability conducted the Self-Evaluation Survey during the summer months of 2015. A complete listing of the facilities is included. Most facilities presented minor issues which have been addressed by the respective City departments, or are in the process of becoming compliant.

Prioritization of Projects

Recognizing that the City has limited funds and cannot immediately make all facilities and public rights-of-way fully accessible, facilities and barriers within facilities had to be prioritized. First, all facilities were listed and ranked according to program functions as follows.

Facility Prioritization:

- * Importance of the program function—the numbers and types of programs and programs unique to a facility that cannot occur at another facility
- * Frequency of use—facilities that receive a high level of public use and/or facilities of high use by members of the public with disabilities
- * Program location and relation to other program functions—facilities distributed throughout the City in order to ensure maximum access for all.

Since persons with disabilities utilize certain buildings and facilities with greater frequency, the impact of barriers identified at these facilities was greater. Upon compilation of the survey results, City staff helped determine prioritization criteria for key items found in the survey and obtain additional information to determine a final level of prioritization of barrier locations. Prioritization Criteria for Facilities According to Barrier Location:

- Priority 1. Basic public access and hazardous conditions:
 - a. Accessible route from exterior site arrival points within the boundary of the property to an accessible building entrance of the program location. (An exterior accessible route may include walks, accessible parking spaces, curb ramps, ramps, lifts, crosswalks at vehicular ways, passenger loading zones, etc.)
 - b. Accessible route from "the accessible program building entrance to "first contact points" such as information counters within the facility. (An accessible route may include corridors, ramps, elevators, lifts and clear floor spaces, etc.)
 - c. Removal of overhead obstructions, protruding objects, adjustments of doors with excessive opening force and the provision of automatic or power-assisted doors at designated public "primary" entrance of each building.
- Priority 2. Access to program function areas.
- Priority 3. Access to public common areas that support program function areas

Public Rights-of-Way Prioritization:

- * Providing accessible crosswalks, including developing and maintaining policies for audible pedestrian signals, providing accessible pedestrian controls, and removing abrupt changes in level affecting the path of travel;
- * Removing obstacles in the pedestrian rights-of-way that narrow the pathway to less than 32 inches;
- * Removing abrupt changes in level caused by tree roots or deterioration along pedestrian rights-of-way;
- * Removing or providing detectable warnings for overhanging obstacles not detectable by blind pedestrians using a cane;
- * Removing excessive cross slopes in the pedestrian rights-of-way that are perpendicular to the primary direction of travel.
